Verification Opt-In

Salesforce.com Certification is introducing a new certification verification tool on the Certification website that will allow individuals to search for certified experts, by name or email address, and view their active Salesforce.com Certification credentials.

If you would like your Salesforce.com Certification credentials to be included and viewable on the website, please select 'Yes' from the verification opt-in picklist below. If you select 'Yes', only your active Certifications will appear in a search.

If you do not wish to make your Certification Credentials publicly viewable, please select 'No'. If you select 'No', none of your Salesforce.com Certification credentials will be listed on the verification page.

You can change your selection at anytime by logging into Webassessor™ and editing your Test Taker profile. For instructions on how to update your verification opt-in selection, please visit http://certification.force.com/pkb/articles/Public_KB/Verification-Opt-in-Instructions.
